Cocaine fished out of Frigate Bay

By Saju Ng'alla

The Royal St. Christopher and Nevis Police Force Drug Unit discovered on Tuesday 50 pounds of cocaine at Frigate Bay.

The cocaine was sealed in 20 water-proof packets and bundled together to make one bail.

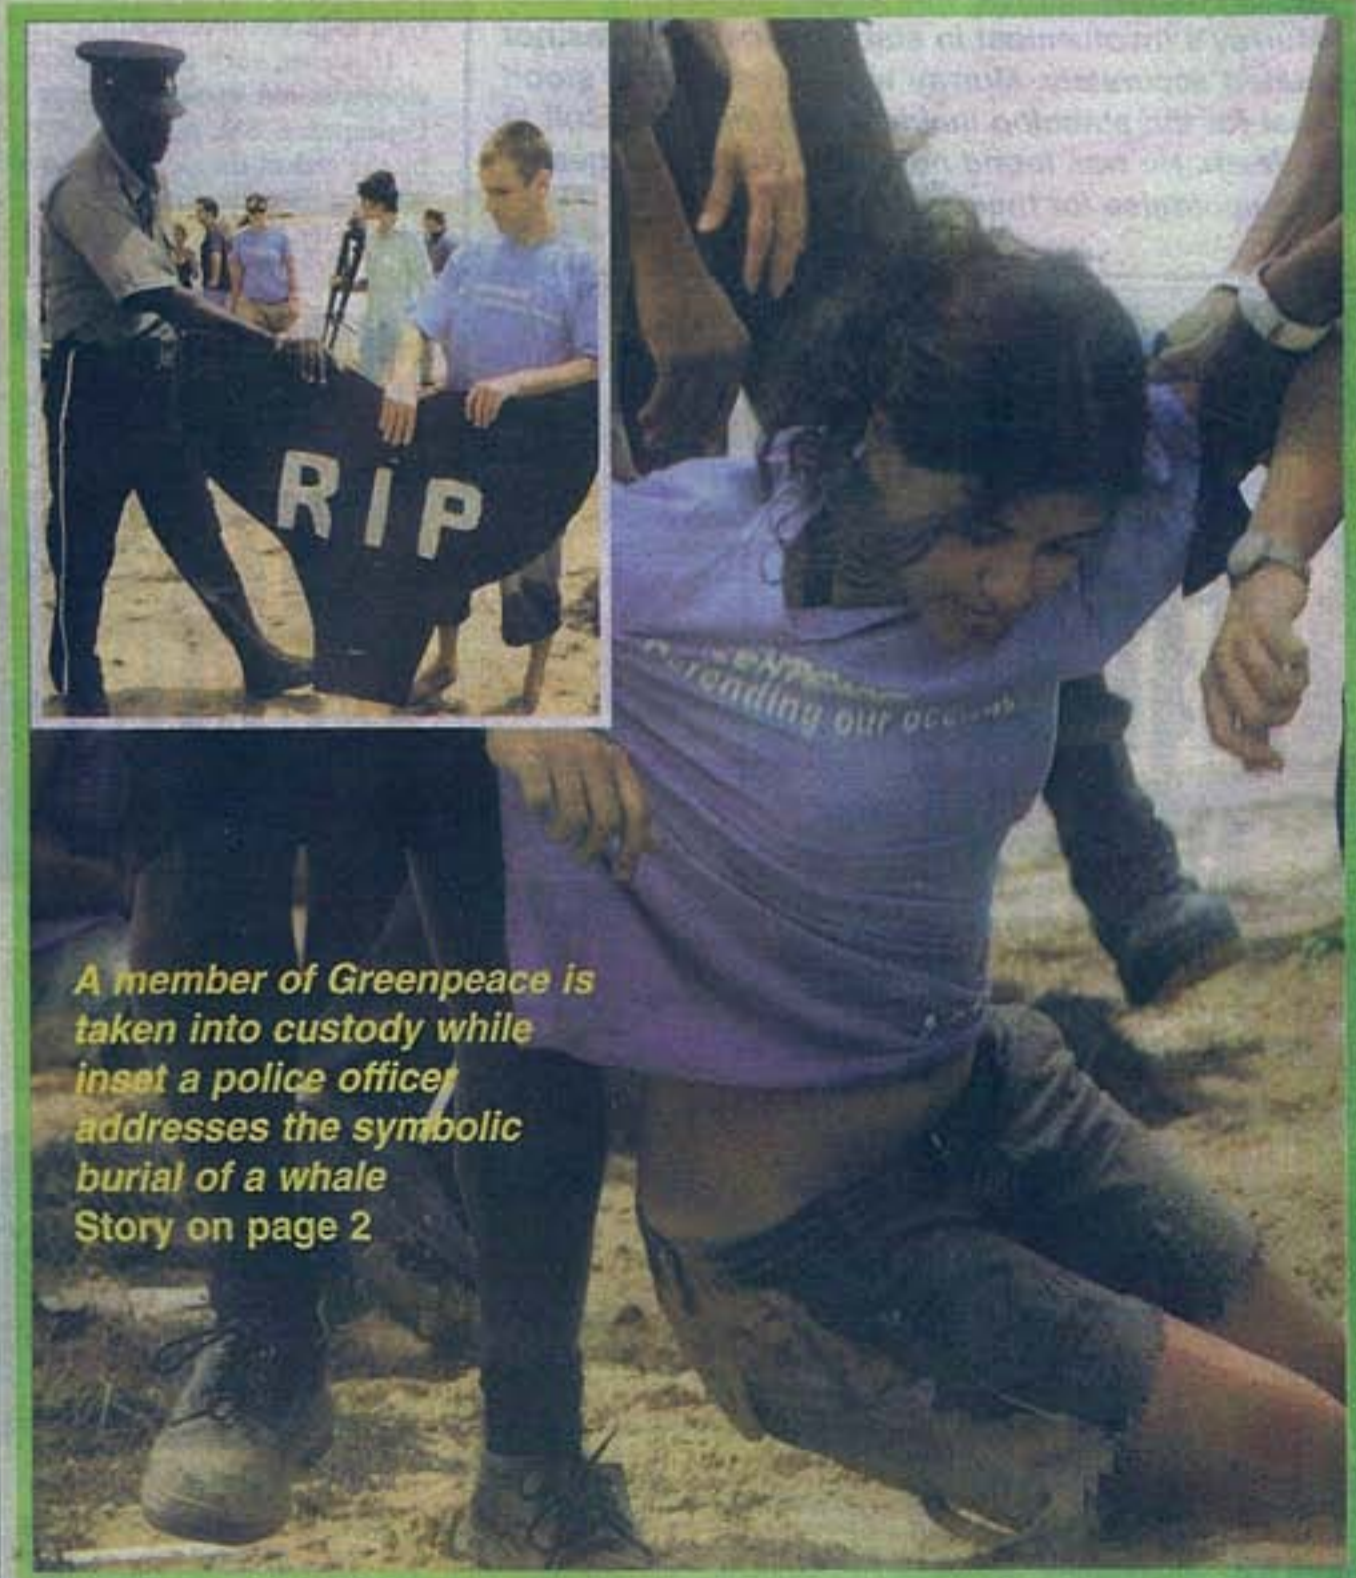

The drug squad fished the bail out of the water at about 11:30 a.m. on the North side of Frigate Bay beach in the vicinity of the old Jack Tar Cabana.

According to the drug squad, the cocaine has an estimated street value of $1.5 million.

"We do not know where the drugs originated from," a drug
